

About Asilomar

Asilomar Conference Grounds, known as Monterey Peninsula's "Refuge by the Sea" is located on 107 acres of protected beachfront land at 800 Asilomar Avenue in Pacific Grove. Phone (831) 372-8016.

Activities

Outdoor year-round heated swimming pool, sand volleyball court, ping-pong and pool table are available. A coastal board walk and self-guided walking tours are also available.

Attire is Casual

Wear comfortable shoes and clothing to enjoy walking along the beach and exploring the tide pools. Bring a sweat shirt and a jacket as sometimes it gets rather chilly, but also be prepared for a bright and sunny day! Dressing in layers is recommended. Pack an umbrella for an occasional shower.

Transportation

24 hour taxi service is available from the Monterey Airport.

Resource Tables

To request a resource table in the meeting room, please contact Social Light at (415) 255-0800 or info@social-light.com

Objectives

Meeting Objectives

- Participants will contribute to the development of a platform statement which will serve as the long term foundation for strategic and action planning, coordination with related groups, and CNAP planning
- Participants will contribute to the ongoing development of a 3-5 year plan to help CCLHDN achieve its mission and purpose
- Participants will help to organize collective efforts to identify and address public health nutrition issues, especially those relating to populations with low incomes
- Participants will incorporate CCLHDN plans and activities into their local nutrition services, nutrition education, and food security efforts

Meeting Outcomes

At the close of the meeting, CCLHDN will have:

- A ratified platform statement/document
- A ratified strategic plan consisting of 1-2 overarching goals and several objectives
- An action plan consisting of specific steps to implement the strategic plan and specific assignments for members (or members' staffs)
- A slate of CCLHDN officers and officers elect for 2010/2011

About CCLHDN

The California Conference of Local Health Department Nutritionists (CCLHDN) consists of a professional nutritionist from each local health department in California. It is an affiliate of the California Conference of Local Health Officers (CCLHO).

The California Conference of Local Health Department Nutritionists works to assure the nutritional well being of all Californians.

To achieve this we:

- Provide leadership and education on nutrition issues.
- Utilize advocacy and organized community efforts to identify and address public health nutrition concerns.

For more information, or membership, contact the Nutrition Services staff, the Health Officer of your local Public Health Department or visit the CCLHDN website at www.cclhdn.org.

Partial funding provided by USDA's Food Stamp Program, an equal opportunity provider and employer, helping limited income Californians buy more nutritious foods for a healthier diet. For information about Food Stamps, please call 1-800-952-5253.

Why attend?

In a state where obesity rates continue to increase and diet-related chronic diseases continue to demand a disproportionate share of health care resources, the job of public health nutritionists is more relevant than ever. If we want to be effective, we must work together to give voice to and advocate for resources to address the important issues of our time.

Toward this goal, we will utilize this meeting to ratify our platform statement and strategic plan, and we will articulate the action steps required to implement our plan and fulfill our mission. (We will make every attempt to involve members and representatives who cannot be at the meeting through email and teleconferencing during the conference.) There will also be opportunities to learn about state and federal programs and discuss issues of sustainability for your programs.

At this meeting, you will have the opportunity to

- Weigh in on CCLHDN's platform
- Help shape our strategic plan and CCLHDN's future
- Help articulate action steps that add value to the work you're already doing
- Be a chord in the voice that is providing expertise in public health nutrition to health officers and the California public
